

G7 Master Printer Certification Awarded

We are pleased to announce that FCP® has achieved G7 Master Printer Certification for proofing and press equipment to G7 standards developed by IDEAlliance. The certification was granted through implementing a calibration process that allows FCP® to reliably produce a close visual match from proof to print. The G7™ Methodology for proof-to-print is based on the principles of digital imaging, spectrophotometry, and computer-to-plate technologies. Some of the many benefits include reduced costs, reliable internal guidelines for process controls, and better print predictability. We are pleased to have earned this certification to better serve our customers by delivering high quality printing consistently, reliably and within the tightest industry standards.

Installation of 73" UV Press Underway

The landscape in the FCP® pressroom is undergoing a transformation as we install our newest sheetfed press. Work is progressing smoothly on the creation of a 11' x 79' x 2.5' pad filled with approximately 90 yards of concrete to support the 171 ton press. We are excited to be able to offer you additional print capabilities, and we look forward to showing off this brand new state-of-the-art piece of equipment in the near future!

The FCP Edge: All Under One Roof

Shopping is always easier when you only have to make one stop to get all of the items on your list. FCP offers you the same simple solution for your print projects - why use multiple suppliers when you can use just one? Print, finish, and kit-pack all under one roof with exceptional customer service - let us help make life a little simpler!

Paper Recycling Hit Record High

The American Forest & Paper Association reports that in 2007 an all-time high of 56 percent of the paper consumed in America was recovered for recycling. The 54.3 million tons of paper recovered in 2007 add up to more than 360 pounds for every man., woman and child in America. That's 25 million tons more paper than was recycled in 1990, and a goal that was achieved five years ahead of schedule.
